ABOUT ME

My ambition is to tell stories that otherwise wouldn't be told. I'm good at investigating, building sources and grasping nuance quickly. I pair old-school journalism with digital skills to find the most gripping way to tell the story.

EXPERIENCE

JOURNALIST | (2015 – present)

FREELANCE

I cover Northern European politics for POLITICO Europe and write freelance for the Guardian, Sunday Times and others. I make film and radio, take photos, and host one of Ireland's most popular podcasts, The Irish Passport.

CORRESPONDENT | (2014 – 2016)

AGENCE FRANCE-PRESSE

I reported in Britain and Ireland through one of the most turbulent times in recent history, covering Brexit, elections, and landmark referendums in Scotland and Ireland.

CORRESPONDENT | (2012 – 2014)

REUTERS

I reported from Rome on the rise and fall of three governments and two popes.
